CERTIORARI (Continued). in which to plead, demur, or move, plaintiff could not take default during the life of the stipulation, and the court had jurisdiction to determine whether the stipulation was binding or was subject to an oral contract that defendant should not demur, and to determine, whether rightly or wrongly, that defendant was entitled to demur; and its order allowing a demurrer to be filed within the fifteen days will not be annulled upon certiorari. (Id.) CHILD LABOR. L Employment Of Children In Dangerous Or Immoral Business----Constitutionality Of Code Provisions. --The provisions of sections 272 and 273 of the Penal Code, forbidding the employment of children under the age of sixteen years in dangerous or immoral occupations, and making it a penal offense to employ such children therein, do not contain any unreasonable classification or unfair discrimination, or constitute special legislation, but are constitutional and valid. (In re Application of Weber, 392.) 2. Competency Of Legislature--Conclusiveness Of Its Judgment--Discretion As To Exceptions. --It is competent for the legislature to provide regulations for the protection of children of immature years, and the legislative judgment in regard to the proper age at which such regulations shall become applicable to the child is conclusive, and its discretion in permitting the exceptional employment of children under sixteen years as singers or musicians in churches, schools, or academies will not be interfered with by the court.
