How the crystalloids metamorphose into colloids and what the difference is between, say, the potash salts in vegetable and earthy potash, is not known. In looking over the catalogs of several medical colleges, I find only one that seems to undertake any considerable study of this all-important phase of chemistry. The faddists and charlatans who are taking advantage of the ignorant public to relieve them of easy money, under the cloak of religion by practicing some URINARY CHLORIDES IN DISEASE 17 well known phase of psychology to temporarily relieve purely nervous phenomena, must be rendered harmless by physicians propaganda, enlightening the public as to how emotional factors produce chemical changes. They must be told how pain, hunger, fear, rage, brought about many ordinary physiological reactions through a direct influence upon the adrenal glands and explains many things in...
