I likes a trip to Sadlers Wells--And there, when I sees the beaux and belles, Why, I sings fal de ral. Then Bett, my girl, since my mind you know, Lets take one spell before we go, All hands on deck for a dance--yo! ho! Why, fiddlers, thats your sort. Should a true Jack Tar up aloft there be, Mayhap hed like to join with me, Take a parting frisk--then off to sea, And there sing fal de ral. THE THREE POOR FISHERMEN. From the Play of The Savages. Sadlers Wells, 1792. -- Respecting this song Mr. Chappell has furnished us with the following note: The first verse and the burden are a paraphrase of We be Three Poor Mariners, one of those Freemens Songs which were so much in vogue in the reign of Henry the VIII. , and which that monarch delighted to sing...
